

The present situation is forcing organisations to make difficult decisions and be in a state of preparedness. Many are looking at force majeure clauses as well as options to the continuing operational and labour expenses despite reduction in revenues. It's a challenging time for all of us.

While we continue to assess the coronavirus (COVID-19) situation and the steps and precautions being taken worldwide as well as by the Government of India and the various States, we wanted to update our valued clients and friends and share information about Clasis Law's readiness for the present and any future steps that may be required.

We continue business as usual. We are also considering precautionary measures and may adopt working remotely from time to time. In the event we do need to or decide to altogether close an office location and work remotely, we are prepared to allow our attorneys and staff to provide our clients uninterrupted service. This however, will not, in any way impact our ability to be there for you, as may be required.

We value our relationship. Please do not hesitate to reach out with questions or concerns at any time.

We hope that you and your family remain healthy and safe throughout this global health challenge.
